General Wood's Report

The following is from the report of Gen Wood, commanding in Mississippi:

"Several of the statute laws of this State in reference to the negroes are very objectionable. I will specially designate a few that seem to be most open to objection.

The statute makes the negro a competent witness in all cases in which one or both of the parties litigant are negroes. It therefore fully protects the rights of the negroes. But if both the parties litigant in any case are white persons the negro is not a competent witness. Since the negro is a competent witness either for the prosecution or defense in cases in which a white person is either plaintiff or defendant and the other party a negro, no reason can be perceived why the colored person should not be a competent witness when both parties are white persons. It is true this statute does not injure the rights of persons or property of the negroes but it does work great injury and inconvenience to the white inhabitants. As the law now stands the negro can use the testimony of the members of the colored race as also the evidence of white people in all cases in which his rights are in litigation, but in matters of litigation between two white persons neither of the parties can use negro testimony though it may be the only evidence available in the case. A white person can use the testimony of a negro only in case a negro is party to the suit.

The statute prohibiting colored people from bearing arms without a special license is unjust, oppressive and unconstitutional. One of the courts of the State has decided the law to be unconstitutional, while another has maintained its constitutionality.

The law prohibiting the negroes from purchasing or leasing real estate, except in corporate towns or cities, is impolitic and unconstitutional. The effect of it is to drive negroes in large numbers into the towns, where they suffer from idleness, vice and disease, whereas if they were allowed to acquire homes in the country, they would become useful, contented and happy laborers. The Constitution of this State as amended in 1866 invests the negroes with the right to acquire and hold property without any qualification or limitation as to the kind or character of the property. It is hence impossible to perceive what authority the Legislature of the State possesses to limit this constitutional boon. Moreover this statute conflicts directly with the undoubted constitutional right of every citizen whether white or black, to alienate every species of property he owns whether real or personal in any way, or to any other person without distinction of color that may be agreeable to the interest or disposition of the proprietor.

The statute requiring all negroes to make a contract, on or before January 10th of each year or to obtain a license to do job work, is unjust, oppressive and unconstitutional.

The Constitution of the United States as well as the Constitution of this State, prohibits forever slavery or involuntary servitude.

If the negroes are required by a statutory enactment to obtain a license to do job work, or to make a contract to labor for the year, or to be exposed to arrest, fine and imprisonment, it would seem the constitutional gift is not much more than a name.

It is trusted that subsequent legislation will remove these objectionable acts from the statute book, or that they will become obsolete.

A slow but gradual amelioration of feeling and abatement of prejudice toward the negroes are observable among the white population of the State."

THE INDIANA CONSPIRACY CASE.—A Washington letter of the 10th ult says the Supreme Court that day rendered its full decision in the Indiana conspiracy trials, otherwise known as the Bowles and Milligan case ex parte. The decision was, as will be remembered, made orally just at the close of the last term of Court. The questions certified of in this case and two other cases heard with it were as follows: 1st—On the facts stated in said petition and exhibits, ought a writ of habeas corpus to be issued, according to said petition?—2d—In the facts stated in said petition and exhibits, ought the said Compden P Milligan to be discharged from custody, as in said petition prayed? 3rd—Whether, upon the facts stated in said petition and exhibits, the Military Commission mentioned there had jurisdiction legally to try and sentence said Milligan in the manner and form as in said petition and exhibits stated? As to the first two questions it is answered in the affirmative, and as to the third question it is answered in the negative.

Mr Justice Davis read the opinion of the Court, Justices Grier, Nelson, Clifford and Field concurring in which, as to the objection to the jurisdiction of the Court in the matter, on the ground that there was no suit pending before it, it is held that a cause is a suit, and whenever there is a proceeding before a Court to assert any right by any person, that proceeding is a suit. In this case there was an appearance by the District Attorney on the part of the Government, but that is immaterial as to the question of jurisdiction, as the appearance was not necessary to sustain it. The language of the statute providing for a certificate of division in any case where Judges are divided upon the application of either party is intended to enlarge the statute rather than restrict it in a manner to exclude the right of appeal in cases of this character where only the name of one party appears on the minutes. It is held that Congress provided against such commissions rather than in favor of them, by the Act of 1863, and that Congress has not the constitutional power to authorize such commission, that the Constitution is expressly against them, and it is the supreme law of the land in times of war as well as in times of peace. Mr Chief Justice Chase read an opinion, in which Justices Swayne and Miller concur, dissenting from so much of the opinion of the Court as held that Congress did not have the constitutional power to authorize a Military Commission but concurring as to the answer given to the questions certified to. The dissenting opinion holds that in time of war, Congress may authorize a Military Commission to try such offences as are charged in the case before the Court.

ABLY INDORSED.—A letter from Senators and Representatives in the National Congress, dated Washington, D C, Dec 5th, was sent to James W Nye, Senator from the State of Nevada, in the following language: "If necessary to secure your re election, remain in Nevada. The country can temporarily dispense with your services in the Senate better than endanger your election." It was signed by Senators Wade of Ohio, Sumner of Massachusetts, Wilson, of Massachusetts, Ramsey of Minnesota, Cragin of New Hampshire, Morrill of Maine, Howard, of Michigan, Chandler of Michigan, Lane of Indiana, Howe, of Wisconsin, Pomeroy, of Kansas, Patterson, of New Hampshire, Williams, of Oregon. CENTRE SHOT.—The Philadelphia North American delivers the following keen and fatal center shot:

At the same time that the President so vehemently opposes the admission of the inchoate States of Colorado and Nebraska on account of alleged deficiency of population he strenuously insists upon the admission of Florida, which has less white population than either Colorado or Nebraska, and does not receive one emigrant where those States receive ten. There are more miles of railway built in Nebraska than in Florida, and the latter has no town that can begin to compare in population, wealth or trade with Omaha or Denver. Florida has been in open rebellion against the national Government and has only been conquered by force and compelled to become loyal. Colorado remained firm and true to the republic throughout the whole war, furnished soldiers to the national armies, and did her duty manfully, as also did Nebraska. Yet the President demands that Florida shall be again recognized as a State and that Colorado and Nebraska should be refused. If such States as Florida are fit to have Senators in Congress, most assuredly Colorado and Nebraska are also.

The Bill to Territorialize the Southern States

The following is a synopsis of the bill introduced into the House by Julian of Indiana providing Territorial governments for the lately rebel States:

> An act providing civil government for the districts lately in revolt against the United States and for the restoration of said Districts to their perfected rights as States in the Union.

Sec 14 provides for the meeting and mode of conducting the State Convention.

JEFF DAVIS.—Colonel Stanton, the Chief Paymaster of the Department of Virginia, has just made an extraordinary payment at Fortress Monroe. The recipients of the greenbacks were the members of the 36th United States colored troops, consisting of 224 officers and men, and the amount required to discharge the Government indebtedness to them was $83,000—the pay being only for five months, the remainder of the amount being absorbed by bounties. While Col Stanton was paying those sable warriors, Jeff Davis walked the ramparts that have so long been to him the world's boundary, passed by and glanced curiously at the scene. At that moment a gentleman took note of his personal appearance who had not seen him since 1860, but who was then familiar with his form and features, and his first impression was that Jefferson Davis had grown wondrously old in those few years. His hair has turned to silvery white, his form grown emaciated, his face haggard, his step slow and uncertain, his whole presence that of one whose sands of life have almost run out. Daily he mounts the ramparts, daily he makes the circuit of the immense fortification so long his prison, daily he gathers what he may of the invigoration of the bracing healthful air surging up from the ocean between the Virginia capes, but daily his life seems rapidly slipping from his grasp. He has no positive disease, he is not even fretted by any galling prison restrictions, he seems at ease, has no complaints to make about his treatment, and yet his strength appears to wane, his natural force, day by day, to be abated, but those most familiar with him now seem to think he will last as long in the fort as out of it, perhaps longer. The great four years strain upon his energies and the downfall of his empire snapped the foundations of his life; after that it mattered little where or how he lived. He has grown simply indifferent to the future; he does not expect liberty and never speaks of it now; he does not hope for a trial in the spring, but presumes that the trial will be discussed and hinted at as the excuse for keeping him where he is.

INTOXICATED SENATORS.—The Washington correspondent of the Newark Advertiser, December 11th, writes as follows:

The Senator from California, McDougall, appeared in the Senate on Monday, drunk as usual and did most of the talking for his side of the chamber, muttering his incoherent sentences so that the reporters had to guess at his language. His opportunities for disgracing himself and the Senate at the same time will be exhausted with the present session, and his successor Cole is already in the city. We understand that McDougall's salary is paid only to his wife, who deals it out to him at discretion. His salary and milage have been about $10 000 per year. Saulsbury also commenced the session with unfavorable promise and yesterday was so much under the influence of liquor as to speak in the Senate with twitching slobbering tongue. Lost to all sense of shame he is pointed out to strangers as the unfortunate of the Senate. With intellect inferior to few if any in the body, and when himself, a gentleman of refinement and social qualities, he is speeding fast to the inevitable end of such excesses as he has indulged in during his congressional career. Riddle, the other Senator from Delaware, is not far behind his colleague, and while not so prominent in the Senate, hence is not so much noticed, bids well to reach first the end above referred to. He seldom speaks in the chamber and is far the inferior mentally of Saulsbury. To this gentleman belongs the motion for increasing members' salaries.

A TEXAN COMPLIMENT.—A driver of a coach in Texas stopping to get some water for the young ladies in the carriage, being asked what he stopped for, replied— "I am watering my flowers." A delicate compliment.

FROM MONTANA

The Montana Post of December 15th gives the following particulars of a bloody affray which happened in Cave Gulch on Friday Dec. 14th, by which three men came to a sudden and untimely death and five more were wounded, two of whom will no doubt die:

The circumstances of the case date back almost to the time of the discovery of the gulch and are as follows. It appears that the original discoverers of the gulch, not being very sanguine of the future of the locality, concluded to leave, and we believe the majority of them went to Confederate gulch. In their absence parties went on, jumped the ground, and succeeded in developing rich pay. The consequences were that some of the original discoverers, on coming back, were dissatisfied with the state of affairs, and proposed to repossess themselves of their old ground. Peace however, still reigned between the parties, although for some time past it has been evident that a war of either law or pistols would be the eventual ending. It probably has culminated in bloodshed sooner than anticipated, though it seems not without both parties being amply prepared for the contest. This morning (Friday) at 9 o clock, the ball opened. The rejumping party, on their way to gain the ground, were fired on with the fatal results above mentioned. The names of the killed and wounded are as follows: Killed—Jack Cheever, (known as black Jack), John Hassett and Thomas Thoavers. We have only been able to learn of the name of one of the wounded, Thomas Canners, in the bowels, mortally. Later, we learn that a large posse went from New York gulch this afternoon to protect the jumpers, and that also some of the Federal officers started from this place.

We have received the tidings of a shooting affray near Colonel Foster's ranch, in Gallatin county. It seems that a man named Miles, who had arrived recently in the Territory, had a dispute with another person regarding a woman. Violent language was used and a fight ensued, in which Miles fired a revolver twice. Newton Little interfered for the purpose of separating the combatants, and received a mortal wound. Miles attempted to make his escape, but was pursued and after riding eight miles was captured. He made no resistance when arrested, and is in the hands of the civil authorities. The preliminary examination took place yesterday at Gallatin City. The affair occurred on the 14th of December.

The Helena Herald of the 20th gives later particulars, as follows:

The news of the affray being immediately conveyed to New York Gulch, a strong body of Vigilantes turned promptly out, rode swiftly to the scene of disturbances, and, together with members of the Committee from Diamond City, these intrepid fellows, in the absence of any other effective or legal force, proceeded as conservators of the peace to arrest the parties engaged in this sanguinary contest. The whole nine of the pre-emptors and the three healthy "jumpers" were taken into custody. At New York, while on their way to Helena, the Committee were ordered by the Sheriff of Meagher county to turn the men in their charge over to him, which order the Committee did not see fit to comply with. The prisoners were sent forward to this city, and arrived in charge of their custodians on Saturday morning. The Committee, desirous of turning the prisoners over to the U. S. Marshal, Deputy Neal Howie was sought out for that purpose. The Sheriff of Meagher appearing again demanded the prisoners, and the Committee, by advice of Deputy Howie, gave them into the hands of that officer. Sunday morning the prisoners, guarded by the Sheriff, his posse, and Deputy Marshals Howie and Bidler, were conveyed back to Meagher county. Here the three "jumpers" were released, it is said, by order of the District Attorney. The counsel for the pre-emptors, Messrs Pemberton and Williams, waiving an examination, the prisoners were committed for trial at the next term of the District Court, and returned to Helena for safe keeping, where the nine are now locked up in jail.

Crime is rampant in Montana. The Gazette of December 15th contains the following:

We are called upon to record one of those terrible occurrences to-day, which occasionally shock communities, and make us feel how truly mortal we are. Louis Tenck, for some time past a miner on Dry Gulch, where it is said he was an industrious delver after the precious metals, commenced on last Tuesday what is usually termed a "spree." Not being very demonstrative, his conduct was not of a character to attract public attention, and he was left to follow out his own inclinations. While in his cups, the notion seems to have taken hold upon his mind to go to California, where he had a son, and acting upon this determination he sold his claim in Dry Gulch and bought a horse with which to make the trip. He seemed entirely intent upon settling up his business with this purpose in view, and on Thursday evening he had determined to start the following morning, though it is said that he was drinking till a late hour on Thursday night, his horse not being brought in at Montee's stables until near 11 o'clock. He concluded to lay down soon after having his horse put up and made down his bed in the bar room of the "Carson Brewery," kept by Samuel Keizer, on Water street, near the Bridge. No other person slept in the room, and Tenck's bed was made on the floor near the stove—he retiring to his last rest. The back and upper part of the house (being two stories) is occupied as a dwelling by Keizer. The lady of the house heard the discharge of a pistol sometime in the night, but as such things are not uncommon in that neighborhood, she did not think it of sufficient importance to alarm the male occupants of the house. In the morning Keizer came down stairs as usual to open his house, and at first did not notice anything remarkable about Tenck's bed, his head and face being entirely enveloped in the blankets. Just before starting to build a fire in the stove, however, he observed a pistol lying by the side of his bed, and a pool of blood which extended slightly from under the blankets. Being alarmed, he spoke to Tenck, and received no answer, took hold of the edge of the blankets and raised it from Tenck's face, when a most horrible spectacle met his eye, the head and face being covered with blood, with a frightful gash in the forehead and a number of contusions on the face. Dr Brooks, the Coroner, was called in, and a hasty examination proved that in addition to the cut and bruises above spoken of, the deceased had been shot in the mouth with a pistol, the ball also passing through the blanket as it lay over his face. It was undoubtedly a cold blooded murder, though somewhat shrouded in mystery. It is said that the deceased had been seen recently with $1,200. This was undoubtedly what the murderers were after, though they did not get it, as we understand his money was deposited with some business house in this city. As we go to press we learn that two parties, suspected of complicity in the affair, have been arrested.

The Helena Gazette says:

Conrad Romsch, of Diamond City, M T, started out on the morning of the 30th of November, to hunt his horse. Getting over the range he became confused and lost his reckoning. Traveling on he struck the Missouri river on the second day, and continued down stream, hoping to strike a ferry. In this however he was disappointed, as he had struck the stream below all the ferries. He continued on in this manner for ten days, striking Coal Banks, 35 miles above Fort Benton, on the 9th of December. He had been all this time without food or shelter, and five of the ten nights he was without fire, having to travel all night to keep warm. His feet swelled until he was obliged to cut his shoes open, and he reached the Coal Banks almost barefooted—having traveled 300 miles.

The Helena Herald of December 20th says:

A man by the name of Murphy was accidentally killed by a comrade on Thursday last while out hunting near the Missouri river. At the time of this sad occurrence, the two men in single file were pushing their way through an under brush, Murphy in the advance. The rifle in the hands of Murphy's friend becoming by some means full cocked, was suddenly discharged by a twig striking the trigger, and the contents of the piece took effect in Murphy's heart, killing him instantly.

The Bill authorizing the removal of the Capital from Virginia City to Helena, which passed the Legislature by three majority in the House and five majority in the Council, has received the signature of Governor Smith and may already be regarded as a law.

"Were you guarded in your conduct while in New York?" said a father to his son who had just returned home from his visit to the city. "Yes sir, part of the time by two policemen."

THURSDAY MORNING JANUARY 17, 186

"Everything to Gain and Nothing to Lose"

"War is not a game in which there is every thing to gain and nothing to lose" So said the patriotic Governor of Maine in his message a few days ago So says common sense But there are those who hold the opposite opinion In their view war is a game in which there is nothing to lose and everything to gain Such is the belief of the Confederates Such is the notion of those who are devoted to work of propagating Confederate sentiments in the loyal States. The rebels thought they had a chance to gain all they claimed. But though they missed their mark, they lost nothing' Such is their theory Such are the arguments of their Copperhead allies

Here is the way in which they state it: The South struck for independence She fought for self government as any people have a right to do She severed her connection with the old Government But her effort having failed, she is back again under the Government against which she revolted, without having forfeited a single right which she formerly possessed This is the manner in which the organ of the Administration near us has stated the case over and over again War is a game in which there is nothing to lose and everything to gain

Loyal people prefer to think differently. They do not regard war as a holiday sport They do not consider the rebellion which has been put down at so fearful a cost as a trifling matter They do not think this great expenditure of life and money a mere bagatelle They are of the opinion that when the rebels threw wide the gates of war, they did it at a risk of serious consequences. Those consequences cannot be evaded It is possible to lose something in war as well as to gain everything

Actualities vs Possibilities

The Sacramento Union of a late date has an flattering article in relation to the route and prospects of the Oregon and California Railroad It occurs to us that the Union puts the case in a much more favorable light than realities will warrant We all want the road, but there is no reason why we should delude ourselves into a belief that it can be easily and cheaply built. Facts are to be looked at, and the suggestions of an exuberant fancy reserved for occasions when they will not be met and confounded by an imposing array of figures that cannot be conjured down. We notice also that the Alta has an article on the project which takes a very hopeful view of the prospects of the road Considerable stress is laid upon the grant of land by Congress, and, as we fear, more is looked for from the people of Oregon than they will be able for many years to accomplish. It is not necessary for us to deceive ourselves about this matter. It is not worth our while to declaim grandiloquently and rapturously on this theme, and endeavor to persuade ourselves that we shall shortly build a great railroad costing fifty or a hundred millions of money, and that we shall immediately grow to the stature of a first rate State The theme is an inviting one for declamation—none can be more so, and none can yield less actual profit for the amount of eloquence expended. The fact is, the grant of land by Congress is of little practical value, the talk of assistance by the State will end in nothing, or rather has already ended there, and all that has been said about the enterprise will, if we may judge from present appearances, be better timed ten or twenty years from now. To build the road at present is entirely beyond the capabilities of the country. People may look at it as a thing which the future is to achieve, but few will expect to see it shortly begun The work is great and difficult and of necessity must wait until the country has the ability to undertake it.

A Forsaken Leader

Not long ago we said that the Copperheads, having got enough of Johnson, were quitting him and turning their batteries against him. Whereat a Copperhead editor and his spectacled adviser and assistant grew very indignant, and pronounced the statement a base fabrication. We beg to refer them for particulars on this subject to the following extract from an Eastern letter to the San Francisco Bulletin -

The Radicals are after the President with a sharp stick. A score of investigating Committees are at work collecting the materials for impeachment, if at some future time it should be deemed safe to arraign him. But it is hardly possible the attempt will be made this session While his enemies are pursuing him, his supporters, in the Democratic party at least, find him too heavy a load to carry, and are beginning to repudiate him right and left He is likely to be crushed between the upper and the nether millstones. In a telling speech in Congress that excited great sensation, Col Le Blond, a prominent Democrat from Indiana, speaking for his associates, declared that his party had no interest in the Executive—not the least; that he is not the man of their choice—they did not put him there. The Democracy claimed no benefits under him, and certainly received none in the late campaign. He concluded his speech amid roars of laughter from the Radicals, saying—"It is true, we sustained him whenever he ran into our line of policy, but we never pretended to shoulder that which this Radical party has put into our power, To do so would be to destroy any party in the world"

Following close upon the heels of this significant speech is a strong editorial in the New York Leader, the recognized organ of Tammany Hall That paper exults at being relieved of the dead weight of Andrew Johnson, whose impolitic proceedings—whose weak device of a Philadelphia Convention, and whose purposeless swinging round the circle—have done the Democratic party a frightful amount of harm It declares that Mr Johnson is dangerous only to his friends, and that he has labored hard to manufacture capital for his enemies. Without his spurious assistance, the Democratic party would have been stronger to-day. His Western tour cost them Hoffman's defeat for Governor. It is only in New York city where the Democrats practically repudiated Mr. Johnson, that they were able to hold their own and to increase their vote. The Leader sounds a trumpet call for the reorganization of the Democratic party, beginning in this city as from the citadel of Democracy, and plainly intimates that should the Radicals endeavor to force their candidate into the Presidency in 1868 by fraud—by which it means the refusal to count the electoral votes of the Southern States, or by any other outrageous expedient—that here, where the Democracy polled 84 000 votes to their opponents 36,000, will be found the Might to back the Right The Leader would never have ventured upon such an emphatic repudiation of the President unless instigated by the chieftains of Tammany, among whom are such representative men as John T Hoffman, A Oakley Hall, James T Brady, Judge Cordoza, Richard B Connelly, just elected Controller, and Recorder Hackett If the Democrats fall away from the President's support, his party in Congress will be even more insignificant than John Tyler's famous corporal's guard of nine During the exciting campaign just over the Democracy, although with many misgivings went bail for Johnson They are now evidently bent on surrendering their bail and allowing justice to take its course

GENERAL GRANT FOR PRESIDENT —Some of General Grant's admirers state that it is already an understood thing that he is to be the Republican candidate for President of the United States They say that General Grant is the great stumbling block, to-day, in the way of the President's full removal of troops from the Southern States, and the giving up of the South to the uncivil rule of her own rebellious people The story goes that General Grant has remonstrated against such proposed removal, and that the President is afraid to override the judgment of the General and issued a peremptory order on the subject, lest further popular indignation should be directed against him The truth is, that General Grant keeps his own counsel so well that it is very difficult to find out from him what is going on but parties recently arrived from Washington state that the General ventilates his anti rebel sentiments very freely He recently stated that he hadn't seen any true loyalty exhibited in the South since her surrender, and but for the conditions of his agreement concerning paroles he would be in favor of trying the leaders for high treason This is pretty bold for General Grant, and pleases the Radical Congressmen mightily —Alta's St Louis Letter

NEW YORK, Jan 11.—A Washington telegram says the House Committee on Territories have agreed to report a bill giving new governments to Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, North and South Carolina and Texas. It declares void all laws made by the government in force in these States and provides that all male persons over 21 years of age, who can take the oath of loyalty, be allowed to vote for delegates to a Convention When the Conventions meet, if it is decided to accept the terms proposed by Congress, it is to proceed to select what is called a Provisional Committee of five citizens distinguished for their loyalty to the United States. The committee is to act as one of safety till the convention of the State is formed which they are authorized to inaugurate The convention thus called can then elect provisional State officers and form a State Convention without the consent of Congress Suffrage prohibition or distinction on account of race or color, and repudiation of the rebel debt and disenfranchisement of all who aided the rebellion are to be provided for in State Constitutions If the State shall at any future time attempt to dissolve its relations with the Federal Government its representation in Congress is to cease, and the latter is to do anything not inconsistent with the rules of civilized warfare to protect the loyal people If Congress accepts the new Constitution the State is to be entitled to representation The committee will sign the bill as a substitute for the Stevens measure

They propose to introduce a bill at an early day to carry out their ideas. Earthquake at Fort Klamath.

JACKSONVILLE (Oregon) Jan 13 —The following letter is to the Oregon Sentinel sent from Fort Klamath dated January 8th

"We have singular if not serious news to send by express just leaving This morning at daylight we were startled from sleep by a shock of an earthquake immediately followed by a noise as of distant thunder but in a little while quiet reigned. Everyone was conversing and laughing heartily at the singular phenomena but our countenances soon underwent a serious change It began to grow dark—the whole heavens were full of a very black smoke or cloud, the air had a sulphurous smell and ashes of a brown color fell as fast as I ever saw it snow We had to use candles in the mess room The most of us went into breakfast, but had only got fairly into our seats when the earth seemed rolling like waves upon the ocean Every one was thrown to the floor and trying to regain their feet to be placed again in the same position With the rattling of dishes crashing of window glass cracking of timber of the buildings and the screams of the frightened boys we could not [illegible] gained the door and such a sight met our gaze The tall majestic pines which surround the fort seemed lashing themselves into fury, the wagons in front of the stables were engaged in pitched battles horses and cattle lying crouched upon the ground and uttering the most pitiful moans dogs howling and the unearthly yells of the Klamath Indians encamped near the Fort completed the scene We imagined that we were amid the wreck of matter and crush of worlds The Sutler's store was thrown about twenty feet from its former position There were no lives lost Most of us are of the opinion that a volcano has broken loose near the Klamath marsh as a continuous dark volume of smoke is seen ascending in that direction There was about a half an hour between the first and second shocks The first was only perceptible the second lasted as near can be judged, two or three minutes By order of Commander of Post

(signed,) NED L TENNISON

Quartermaster's Clerk

Mr Whitmore has just arrived from the Agency and reports that Klamath lake has lowered about six feet and is still falling Crooked creek, a stream between this place and the Agency, was dried completely up

CITY.

MAIL MATTERS —Quincy A Brooks Postal Agent for the District of Oregon arrived here by the Oriflamme and will in a few days start overland to Salt Lake for the purpose of inspecting the mail routes and postal matters generally in the Oregon District, with a view to making such improvements as may be found to be needed. He will go on from Salt Lake to Washington arriving there if possible in time, to be present at the mail lettings for this District—on the 23d of February. There are some matters connected with the daily service over the Salt Lake and Dalles route which Mr Brooks will arrange so as to vastly increase the value of the route to Idaho Oregon and Washington Territory For instance, Salt Lake City is a distributing office and ought to divide the overland matter so as to send every thing to its destination by the most expeditious route As at present, the greater part of the matter marked for Oregon is sent forward with the Sacramento mails, necessitating an additional travel of over six hundred miles and consuming in summer about six days and in winter about eleven days, greater time than would be required if the matter were sent from Salt Lake direct to the Dalles. All the matter for Idaho, Washington Territory and all of Oregon North of the Calipooia Mountains should be sent to the Dalles for it would reach that place in just about the time required to carry it to Sacramento City Then matter for Portland would reach here from six to eleven days sooner than by the California route This matter will be corrected by Mr Brooks, at once upon his arrival at Salt Lake City He will give his attention also, to securing a better service on some of the shorter, and side routes of Eastern Oregon and of Idaho, where, at present, the schedules are not properly arranged In another respect the arrival of Mr Brooks here, at this particular juncture is most fortunate. The advertising of the several routes in this District, for special lettings of contracts, was ordered some time ago but by some blundering in the Department offices at Washington, the advertisement of schedules, was not forwarded and the lettings have not, therefore been advertised to the public. The time for opening the bids at Washington is now only about thirty days distant Upon his arrival here, Mr Brooks ascertained the fact of the non-appearance of the usual advertisements, and, in order that the lettings should not fail by default of bidders, he set to work to remedy the error as far as it may be possible to do it at this late date. He, yesterday prepared the the schedules and requested their insertion in the papers The reader will find them in the reading columns of this morning's OREGONIAN It is possible that bids forwarded at once may reach Washington in time to be be considered, and thus secure service on several important routes which might otherwise be idle for months We understand that proposals have been forwarded from Oregon City by parties who had learned through private channels of the lettings, for carrying the mails over the route via Cutting's Mills, Silverton etc. to Lebanon; but it is doubtful if they arrive so as to be opened at the time appointed by the Post Master General. Mr Brooks will make a special effort to get to Washington in time to interpose against the danger of failure of these lettings for want of bids If no proposals are received at the day appointed for opening he will endeavor to have the time extended to give time for proposals that may be forwarded now to reach Washington. News had reached Oregon in advance of Mr Brooks' arrival that Postmaster General Randall had determined to annul the contract with Mr Corbett for carrying the Lincoln and Portland daily mail, to take effect on and after the 30th of June next. Mr Brooks is of the opinion that this may take place but that, if so a daily service will be continued from Portland to, say Eugene City, and from Lincoln to Yreka, and that between these two points there will be a tri-weekly or semi weekly mail

WANT MAIL SERVICE —We understand that the people living along and near the Willamette, above Oregon City, are about to petition to have mail service given them, by steamer, from Oregon City via Boon's Ferry, Butteville, Champoeg Davidson's Landing to Dayton, at least once, or if possible, twice a week There has long been a great need of such service, for the reason that the river between those points is, in most places, distant from the mail routes up the valley, on either side and the points named have no direct and easy communication with post offices on either of those routes. The people have to depend on getting their mail matter by the boats and, as it is the business of nobody in particular to make it up and forward it, and nobody is under any obligation to carry it, the matter sometimes goes, but oftener does not. For all practical purpose, these people are just about as destitute of mail facilities as though there were not a route between Oregon City and Salem By law of [illegible] all navigable streams are post routes, and it will, therefore, only be necessary for the petitioners in this case to make application through Postal Agent [illegible] to the head of the Department, for such mail service as they demand, and if the facts shown, warrant it, an order will be likely to issue for its performance.

STEAMSHIP CHANGES —We find the following in the San Francisco Call of the 12th inst "The steamer Ajax, as soon as her copper is cleaned, will be placed on the route between this city and Portland, to run opposition to the Oriflamme The Pacific, at present making regular trips to the Northern ports, will be put on the Southern route, and run to San Diego, San Pedro, Santa Barbara, etc., a trade for which she is much better adapted than the one in which she is now engaged The Orizaba, which is now in the Southern trade, will be hauled off, and remodeled. She will be cut down, and rebuilt from stem to stern; new boilers will be put in, and [illegible] out of her After these alterations have been [illegible] and it is expected that they will require four or five months to complete them she will be put on the Oregon trade."

SAN FRANCISCO FRUIT MARKET —The Times of the 12th, the day the steamer sailed gives the following quotations of fruit, at retail Apples—Spitzenburg, $2 50@$3 00 per box; Bellefleur, $2 00@$2 75; Rhode Island Greening $2 00@$2 50; Roxbury Russett, $2 00@$2 50; Baldwin, $1 50@$2 25 W. W Pearmain, $1 75@$2 00, Newton Pippin, $2 00@$2 50; Swaar, $1 75@$2 25; Vandevere, $1 50@$2 25; Wine Sap, $1 50@$2 25; Golden [illegible], $1 25@$1 75, Smith's Cider, $1 75@$2 25, Northern Spy $1 75@$2 25. Pears—Easter Beurre $1 50@$2 25 per box; Winter Nellis, 15c@20c per lb [illegible] 75c@$1 00 per doz; Limes, 37½@50c; Lemons, [illegible] 00

LOSS OF THE TOWANDA.—The San Francisco Times of the 12th inst, reports the loss of the schooner Towanda in latitude 46° [illegible] north, and longitude 126° 57', west, on the 5th December "She was caught in a heavy squall, and thrown on her beam ends, but righted when her masts were cut away The Towanda left the Columbia river on the tenth day of December, with a cargo of lumber The captain and crew were three days on the wreck before they were rescued, during which time they [illegible] severely from the cold. They were finally taken off by the brig Arago and landed at Coose Bay The [illegible] was valued at about $7,000 and was uninsured No lives are reported lost.

ONE OF THE UMPQUA MURDERERS.—It is reported here that on Tuesday a man came down on the steamer as far as Oregon City, whom one or two of the passengers [illegible] they recognized as Crow, one of the Umpqua [illegible]. It will be remembered that Crow was [illegible] to have escaped. The suspected man did not come on the steamer any further than Oregon City. If he be the man, Crow, he will probably reach the city by land and attempt to get off on the Oriflamme, or by the [illegible] boat, and thus get out of the State.

NEWSPAPER CIRCULATION —In this country where a [illegible] circulation of 4,000 copies is called, "Our large and increasing subscription list" it may be a little [illegible] to read the following mention of what the editor of the Oregon State Journal saw in the New York Tribune building recently "When we went to the Tribune office the presses running twelve cylinders were working off the weekly edition at the rate of over 20,000 per hour Two or three wagon loads of papers already folded were laying in the front room, and tons of paper [illegible] on one side were piled up in the press room, besides large piles in the folding room where several folding [illegible] run by steam were rapidly preparing the papers for the mailing clerks"

BEEF FOR CALIFORNIA.—We learn that parties came up by the Oriflamme for the purpose of buying beef cattle or [illegible] meats for the San Francisco market. This is one of the results of the late flood which destroyed large numbers of cattle, sheep and hogs, and destroyed so [illegible] a part of the usual winter's feed that farmers are not able to keep their remaining stock in marketable order.

IN [illegible] —R. C Gridley, whose famous "Sanitary sack of flour" brought into the treasury of the Commission over $175,000, is lying sick and in want at Stockton [illegible], with a helpless family dependent on him.—[illegible] for his relief, however, have been initiated at Brooklyn, Alameda county by the Executive Committee of the Soldiers Aid Society

[illegible] —James Murray was arrested last evening by officers Brannan and Saunders, on suspicion of dishonest [illegible] with Uncle Sam's currency—counterfeiting or [illegible] counterfeit money, or something of that sort, as nearly as we could learn An Indian, for being drunk and disorderly, was locked up by officer Townsend. Both the prisoners will be up this morning in the Police Court.

[illegible] PAPERS.—Much the greater part of the mail from the East was left behind at San Francisco by the Oriflamme, as the Panama steamer had arrived there only a few hours before the former sailed for this place, and in the interval there was not time to distribute the mails Purser, however got quite a lot of Eastern papers He has our thanks for a generous bundle.

MAIL LETTINGS —Particular attention is called to the list of mail routes on which service is to be let next month They are not published by order of the Department but they are furnished by Mr. Brooks from the Department lists and we publish them gratis, for the benefit of all who may be interested.

RECORDER'S COURT —Charles Prior was before the Recorder yesterday morning, charged with assaulting and beating his wife For some reason the woman was unwilling to appear against him and evaded the officer who was sent to subpoena her Prior pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs.

OREGON APPLES.—The S F Times speaking of the arrival of Oregon apples by the Oriflamme says the ruling jobbing prices are from 50 cents to $1 72 per box Much of the fruit arrives in a damaged condition, from bad packing and exposure to frost and rain"

AUCTION SALE OF FURS —Kilbourn will sell to-day at his auction rooms, a splendid lot of furs, received by the steamer Oriflamme. It will be worth while to attend this sale, for the assortment is a large and particularly fine one.

OREGON STOCK IN CALIFORNIA.—The trotting horses, Fly-by-Night and Emigrant, were announced for a match over the Bay View Course on the 12th inst, for a purse of $500, "Katy Tricks" was entered to contest the race with them.

WILLAMETTE PRODUCE —Arrived per Alert, Jan 15th, 217 boxes apples, 14 hides, 1480 qr sks flour 1 hlf bbl, 14[illegible] hogs, 3 coops chickens, 6 boxes cider 350 sks wheat, 1 tin can, one keg butter lot of empty hlf barrels

Decided Action of Gen Heintzelman

GALVESTON Jan 6 —Some days since a habeas corpus was served on Gen Heintzelman on an order of the sheriff of Guadaloupe county charging him with committing some offense against the laws It was committed by a subordinate officer acting under the orders of his superior officer Gen Heintzelman refused to comply with the summons to appear before Judge Baldwin District Attorney in the following letter to which a synopsis of his reply is attached

GALVESTON Jan 5 —Judge Baldwin—Sir A few days since I was served with a habeas corpus from Seguin Guadaloupe Texas, by Judge Ireland, notoriously disloyal I replied by furnishing him the orders under which I acted and gave the letter to my Adjutant General, enclosing it to the agent of the Freedmen's Bureau General Seguin He has been indicted for the acts committed by another Under that order neither he nor I want to inquire The present disturbed condition of the country would not admit of my leaving I would not deem my life safe in the hands of the Texas authorities as I know of two persons put to death by a mob There is a strong feeling against officers who have been instrumental in sustaining the laws and especially those connected with the Freedmen's Bureau, and the evident object of the process was to annoy and oppose me and throw discredit upon the United States authorities in this State.

I am yours, etc
S. P HEINTZELMAN
Brevet Major General

Judge Baldwin sustained the position of General Heintzelman in an elaborate decision.

Excitement in Paris over Seward's Dispatch

NEW YORK, Jan 3.—Advices per steamer state that diplomatic documents, relative to the Mexican question were recently published at Paris, and produced a powerful impression upon all classes Their tone is considered discourteous in the extreme Surprise is felt that the French Emperor and his advisers should let pass unnoticed the last dispatch of Mr Seward which is regarded as deliberately offensive It proves to the French people that, not content with subjecting them to the humiliation of decamping from Mexico, the United States wish to insult them The Journal des Debats says it has received a translation of the trans Atlantic dispatch sent Nov 25 to the French Government, complaining of the delay in embarking the first detachment of French troops The Debats says We do not know if the text of this document is correct or not All we discover is that the President is in discord with the American nation and seeks to regain his popularity by violent language.

School Reports

Section 12th of the School Law, says "Districts shall not be entitled to their proportion of the School Fund, at the disposal of the County School Superintendent, unless they shall report to him by the first Monday in March of each year, and shall have had a school taught in their district of three months duration in each year When thus forfeited, no recourse whatever shall be had to obtain the same"

The Yearly Report of the School Districts, is required by law to embrace the following subjects

"Number of legal voters
Number of person over four and under twenty years of age
Number of male scholars
Number of female scholars
Number of quarters taught.
Kinds of books used in the different studies.
Number of scholars in average attendance.
Amount paid Teachers from district tax
Amount received and paid teachers of county funds
Amount of incidental expenses
Total amount levied and collected.
Names of teachers employed.
[Signed by District Clerk"]

I copy this form from the law, as reports often are returned incomplete in several particulars. I would like to have the clerks report the number of families in their several districts, in order that the general report may show the ratio of schools to the families living in the county.

Citizens frequently call upon me to purchase certain tracts of school land All these lands in our county, which can be sold, have been reported to the Board of State Commissioners, with the valuation, who only have the power to sell It is expected that they will give due public notice of the time, place and terms of sale

Teachers frequently desire schools, and districts desire teachers I will freely impart information to either party, if requests are left with me

TWO THREADS NOT NECESSARY —The Christian Advocate and Journal says "While we abate none of the well-deserved praises we have given to others, we must in justice express our confidence in the merits of the Willcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine We consider that a great desideratum has been supplied by it in proving, beyond doubt, that TWO THREADS ARE NOT, as was supposed NECESSARY TO A GOOD INSTRUMENT Stewart & Gourley Agents, Portland Oregon

IMPORTANCE OF HAVING DAVIS' PAIN KILLER ALWAYS ON HAND.

Wonderful Cure of the Rev D L Brayton, Missionary in India, who was stung by a Scorpion

Extract from his letter, published in the Baptist Missionary Magazine:

"For the first time since I have been in India, I have been stung by a scorpion. I went out this morning to my exercises as usual at early dawn and having occasion to use an old box on taking off the cover I put my hand on a scorpion, which immediately resented the insult by thrusting its sting into the palm of my hand The instantaneous and severe pain which darted through the system is quite incredible, what an awful virulent pain their sting must contain I FLEW TO MY BOTTLE OF DAVIS' PAIN KILLER and found it to be true to its name after a few moments relief I saturated a small piece of sponge bound it on my hand, and went about by exercises, feeling no more particular inconvenience

Mustang Liniment.

OVER A MILLION DOLLARS SAVED!

Gentlemen — I had a negro man worth $1 200 who took cold from a bad hurt in the leg and was useless for over a year I had used everything I could hear of without benefit until I tried the Mexican Mustang Liniment. It soon effected a permanent cure "

J L DOWNING

Montgomery, Ala., June 17, 1859

"I take pleasure in recommending the Mexican Mustang Liniment as a valuable and indispensable article for Sprains Sores, Scratches or Galls on Horses Our men have used it for Burns Bruises, Sores, Rheumatism, &c., and all say it acts like magic. J W HEWITT, Foreman American, Wells, Fargo and Harnden's Express.

"The sprain of my daughter's ankle, occasioned while skating last winter was entirely cured in one week, after she commenced using your celebrated Mustang Liniment

Gloucester, Mass, Aug 1, 1865 ED. SEELY"

It is an admitted fact that the Mexican Mustang Liniment performs more cures in shorter time, on man and beast than any article ever discovered Families, livery men and planters should always have it on hand Quick and sure it certainly is All genuine is wrapped in steel plate engravings bearing U S Stamp of DEMAS BARNES & Co over the top.

An effort has been made to counterfeit it with a cheap stone-plate label Look closely!

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions the sale of which daily increases The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters Nevertheless buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice

Nasby Projects a College.

CONFEDRIT X ROADS,
(wich is in the Stait uv Kentucky)
December 9, 1866

Squire Gavitt, Deekin Pogram, Captain McPelter and myself wuz in the Post Offis last nite wich next to Bascom's has got to be the cheef resort uv the leedin intellex uv the Corners a talkin over matters and things when the Deekin happened to mention that next week his second son Elijer, who has intelleck into him, wuz a goin to start for Michigan to enter a college

"Wat!" sed I "do you propose to send that noble yooth Elijer Pogram, to a Ablishn State to enter a Ablishn college to suck his knollege from a Ablishn source? Good hevens! Frailty thy name is woman?"

[I hadn't eny idea that this last remark wuz appropos, but it sounds well and I hev notist that it don't made much difference wat the citashun is so ez yo end a remark with a cotashun]

The Deekin remarked that it wuz painful, but the fact wuz Elijer must hev an educashen He didn't believe in edecashen generally speekin The common people wuz better off without it ez educashen hed a tendency to unsettle their minds He hed seen the evil effex uv it in niggers and poor whites So soon ez a nigger masters the spellin book and gits into noospapers, he becomes dissatisfied with his condishn, and hankers after a better cabin and more wages He to-wunst begins to insist onto ownin land hisself and givin his children educashen, and, ez a nigger for our purposes, aint worth a soo markee Jes so with the poor whites. He knowd one melloncolly instance A poor cuss up toards Garrittstown named Ramsey, learnt to read afore the war, and then commenst deterioratin For two years he refoozed to vote the Dimocratic ticket, then he blossomed out into a Ablishnist and tried to make the others uv his class discontented by tellin uv em that slavery wuz wat kept them down, and finally, after pashunse ceased to be a virchoo, and they tarred and fethered him one nite for an incendiary, he went to Injiany That cuss come back here doorin the late onpleasantness, Kernel uv a regiment, wich he campt on the Deekin's farm and subsisted em off it Sum educashen is, however, necessary. He designed Elijer for Congress, and he must hev it He wuz a troo Pogram, and nothin would strike in wich could hurt him.

"Why not," sez I, "that the Southern yooth may be properly trained, start a college ov our own? Why, Deekin, run risks of hevin uv the minds uv our young men tainted with horesy?"

The entire company wuz struck with the idea, and it wuz earnestly canvassed, and finally decided upon; and I wuz deppytized to start it, which I immejitely did The name by which the new college is to be known is

"The Southern Classicle, Theologicle and Military Institoot, uv Confedrit X Roads (which is in the Stait uv Kentucky")

The college grounds is to comprize one hundred akers, taken from corners uv the farms uv Deekin Pogram, Square Gavitt and Captin McPelter, which ground they sell the college, seein it's for that purpose, for $300 per aker.

The faculty will be, ef we kin seccor em, composed uv these trooly great minds.

Genril Forest, late C. S A , Professer uv Moral Philosophy.

Kernel Mosby, late C. S. A , Professer uv Retoric and Belles Lettres.

Captin McGee, late C. S. A. (in command at Salisbury), Professor uv Natural Sience.

Genril Magruder, late C. S A., Professor uv whatever is understood by them ez is posted in college matters, ez Classics, which I shel look up ez soon ez I hev time

This is a killin two birds with one stun. We not only provide educashen which is safe for our young men, but we pervide comfortable places for the heroes uv the late unpleasantnies

In addishen to those, Deekin Pogram, Square Gavitt and myself, each pledged ourselves to endow a professorship in the theologikle department, to be known by our names, and we to hev the appintin uv the professors

The Pogram chair uv biblical theology will be offered to Rev Henry Clay Dean, uv Iowa provided he will stipulate to wash his feet wunst per quarter and change his shurt at least twicst per annum

The Gavitt chair uv biblical literatoor will be offered to Rev. C. Chauncey Burr, uv New York, and

The Nasby chair of biblical polyticks will be filled by Rev. Petroleum Vesoovius Nasby, hoes eminent fitness for the place is undispooted

In the scientific and classikle department the text-books will be keerfully revised, and every thing uv a Northern or levelin tendency will be scroopulously expergated. In the theolojikle department speshl attention will be given to the highly necessary work of preparin the stoodents for cumin out strong on the holiness uv slavery, and to this end the three years course will be devoted thus

First year—To the cuss of Noah.

Second year—To proove that the Afrikin nigger wuz reely the descendant uv Ham.

Third year—Considerin the various texts wich go to show that Afrikin slavery is not only permitted by the skripters, but especially enjoined

I shel myself lectur from time to time on Ham, Hager and Onesimus, that the bearing of these individooals upon our system may be fully understood, and also on such subjecks ez the influence uv the stimulatin flooids upon the human system, the cat-o'nine tails ez a evangelizer, and sich other topics ez may from time to time suggest themselves.

The young men confided to our care will receive not only a collegiate education, ez it is understood at the North, but careful attention will be paid to the accomplishments so necessary to the troo Suthern gentleman. They will be taught draw poker, pitchin dollars, (real Spanish dollars will be provided for the purpose,) spitting at a mark, revolver and bowie knife practice, tournament ridin at rings (real India rubber rings will be provided, this'll be extra,) and cat-o'nine tails The morals will be scroopulously looked after No card playin will be allowed afore servis on Sunday, and none whatever with the servants They will be taught to respeck theirselves

Uv course there will hev to be a large outlay uv money, wich stands to reason can't be outlayed till it's inlayed.

We therefore formed an Executive Committee, whose dooty it wuz made to solisit funds for this purpose, and to inaugurate a series uv gift enterprises and sich, wich is ez follows

Deekin Pogram—President

Elder Slathers—Vice President.

The high standin uv the Board, particklerly the Secretary and Treasurer, wich hez the handlin uv the funds, is a efficient guarantee that all money subscribed will be faithfully applied It wuz resolved, in order that the Board may present that respectable appearance wich their posishen demands, that the first funds receeved should be applied to the purchis uv each uv em a new soot uv clothes, a step, I am confident, the friends uv Southern educashen will approve uv and heartily indorse.

I hev hopes in the course uv a week to report progress. Every subscriber uv $2 25 upwards, will hev a Honorary Professorship named after him, or will be made a Honorary Member uv the Board uv Directors, ez he chooses. We regret that we wuz too late to git Admiral Semmes to fill eny of the chairs, but we pledge our friends to sekoor his fust lootenant, or sekkond, at farthest. We hev high hopes uv a liberal support from the Dimocrisy north. They cannot but realise the danger uv sendin their sons to sich institutions uv learnin north ez must turn em out Ablishnists, or chill, at least, the ardor uv their Dimocrisy

It is to be hoped that contributions for the buildin of the institooshen and its proper endowment will be commenst immejiately, ez there is a morgage on Deekin Pogram's farm, and I am in pressin need uv a substanshel soot uv winter clothes.

WILD TURKEYS —A correspondent of the Chicago Prairie Farmer, writing from Des Moines county, Iowa, says "Does the Prairie Farmer ever hunt? If so, visit the Des Moines and upper Skunk river bottoms in brown, healthful November, where the prince of American birds the wild turkey, still abounds The wife of a well to do farmer near Skunk river bottom, discovered the nest of a wild turkey with thirteen eggs She carefully gathered them up in her apron and placed them in care of the best motherly old hen in the farm yard and the old hen acquitted herself well, for she raised thirteen turkeys Were they not beauties when they attained their full size and plumage, with their pink legs and bronze feathers! The good woman took care, and the next year increased her flock to near fifty birds The neighbors were calculating to buy or trade for some of them, as they are hardier as well as larger than the common stock They were tame, came home at night but true to nature, would ramble widely through the day Late in the Fall a squad of Musquaka Indians camped over on the bottom and fell in with this flock of birds, as they were out in the woods foraging, and killed them every one"

MORRISSEY IN CONGRESS —The Philadelphia Bulletin gives the following special report of Morrissey's supposed maiden speech in the first session of the Fortieth Congress

Evening Session—Wood of New York in the chair

The appropriation for the Freedmen's Bureau being under discussion Butler of Massachusetts having concluded his remarks Morrissey of New York obtained the floor

Morrissey (Democrat New York) Mr Speaker I arise on this present occasion sir to say my say with regard to this Bureau we heard about which we have already heard so much from the other side I think it is high time that our side of the house should be heard upon this subject and all I want you to do sir is to keep them just and don't let them come the gag over me with their orders and previous questions? I don't ask no odds for no one This is a free fight I take it, give us a fair show and the devil take the hindmost I can charge around in my own high grass and fight my own fites D—n a nigger! Mr Speaker, the glorious charter of our liberties, the Constitution of the United States says that all men are created equal and now sir, I should like to know where in that document you can find one word about the nigger d—n the nigger Just tell me that, will you? Is the nigger mentioned at all? and wouldn't our forefathers have said something about him if they thought he was worth mentioning at all? D—n a nigger! Mr Speaker was George Washington a nigger? Was General Putnam, or any hero of the Revolution except Benedict Arnold, who ought to have been one? And anybody who says the Czar of Russia or Queen Victoria is a nigger lies and he knows it! D—n a nigger! [Cries of 'order ']

Morrissey—If that red headed cuss from Wisconsin don't stop his jaw I'll catch him some night in Shad's oyster cellar and spread his nose all over his face D—n a nigger! I ain't afraid of no man in this House I have reached the hight of my ambition I have been a wharf rat, chicken thief, prize fighter, gambler, and member of Congress I have gone round the circle and left the Constitution and the flag with my constituents, and d—n the nigger! [Small boy in the gallery —' Hail Columbia!']

Some one has said that Fred Douglass was fitter for this seat than I am I can lick the Abolition cuss that said that, and get backers a hundred to one You can't come the guy gugles over me, so you needn't try it on I am a free American citizen, and I'll bust the head of that grinning chap from Iowa, if he don't shut up his fly trap, d—n a nigger Mr Speaker, I believe in the American eagle the glorious feathered songster, who rises on pinions of fire from the lofty mountain top, and piercing the skies, soars among the bannery stars, and—and—d—n the bird, I've got him up there and can't get him down—anyhow, d—n a nigger! Why don't them as loves the nigger so much go to Africa, they can enjoy their society there, we can spare them, and the country be better off without them Andy says so, and he speaks by the book The pure Democracy, undefiled, can take care of the country without their help Fernandy Wood and I could run the machine better than five hundred nigger loving, humanitarian, free loving, Bloomerite d—d Abolitionists, with their infernal Bureaus and Civil Rights bills.

If any gentleman on the other side wants his constitution amended, just let him step out into the rotundy and I'll give ten articles that'll give him the dyspepsy the rest of his natural life D—n a nigger The man from Massachusetts trots out his Latin That dont skeer me I ain't such a fool as some people think. E pluribus neuman zenith et brondaxe, et tu brute! nulla prosequi rumbusque et diaphragm! No use trying to come the school learning dodge over me—d—n a nigger! Mr Speaker, we as Democrats are sick and tired of hearing about the nigger. Why don't they say something about the white man? I'm a white man, and so is my constituents D—n a nigger

Mr Speaker, them are my sentiments as a Democrat Mr Speaker,——

The allotted fifteen minutes being expended, the hammer fell, and Morrissey resumed his seat

The New York Tribune, the most steadfast, as well as the ablest, of the journalistic defenders of the protective policy, thus greets the industrial change which has come over the spirit of the South

Southern newspapers record with joy and pride the erection of new mills, factories, furnaces, and tanneries in the "unreconstructed" States, and wisely bid their readers to look to manufacturing as the only permanent source of independence of the North, and the only source of power and equality in the Union They fairly crow over every new industrial enterprise which is started within their impoverished limits And well they may, for they know their worth. Not one newspaper, not one politician, in the fallen Confederacy has breathed the folly of seeking a restoration of lost power, or the reconstruction of ruined wealth by destroying the infant manufactures which the rebellion gave birth to Neither newspaper nor stump orator has given the suicidal advice to the South, to get back into the Union in order to break down the protective system and allow the industry of the nation, both North and South to be swamped by British free trade That advice fitly and solely comes from abroad. It comes from that hostile and selfish interest which ran our blockade during the war and furnished the rebels with materials of war, and did its utmost to destroy our Government It comes from the British free traders The copartnership the South made with them during the war was natural and profitable A copartnership with them in peace would be unnatural and suicidal The South intends to do its own manufacturing We sincerely hope it will, and we bid it a hearty Godspeed on its way to complete industrial independence of New England as well as of Old England The organ of the foreign importers may summon the South to get rich by blokade running through our Custom houses till it is hoarse The rebellion has taught her political economy with awful rapidity and terrible truthfulness She is going to do her own manufacturing

PRUSSIA AS A NAVAL POWER —Prussia finds herself in a position, as a leading Power, that requires her to compute her naval resources in order that she may, if new conflicts should arise, be able to maintain her pretensions and hold her own on sea as well as on land She is not much of a naval Power to-day, and mere discipline and drilling, such as have made her army the most formidable for its size in all Europe, will hardly serve to make her mistress of the seas for the next generation or more She wants a larger seafaring population than she now has And that her ambition may enable her before long to acquire by the time honored law of might Meanwhile, the Prussian Government has got a navy, or the construction of thoroughly built and effective war vessels, in her mind's eye and a Prince of the blood royal, according to this morning's cable report, comes here to study the progress and methods of naval architecture in this country. The Prince, who is himself a naval officer of the rank of Admiral, could be sent to no better school He will have an opportunity of examining naval crafts that are not built on mere experimental theories nor held in reserve to be practically tested in some future war, but vessels that have been thoroughly tried in as hot engagements as the century has witnessed We trust the royal visitor will find his sojourn here both instructive and agreeable —N Y Herald

A SOUTHERN PAPER ON THE 'YANKEE NATION " —The following, from the Mobile Register, is very good

"General Sherman has been sent on an extraordinary mission to Mexico Everybody is asking what he is going to do there There need be but little mystery about this business The United States mean to drive not only the French troops but Maximilian himself out of Mexico, and to lend all the supports he can give to the Government of Juarez! This may be very impudent on the part of America, and very fatal to the prospects of Mexico, but there is in our day nobody strong or reckless enough to give a decided No' to American dictation.—London Times Nov 18

"Who, ten years ago, could have expected to live to read such an admission in an English paper? The worst of it is that it is true as truth itself The Yankee Nation bullies the world, and nobody is strong enough or reckless enough to resent it Well, who cares out here? John Bull and Jean Crapeau have nobody to thank for it but themselves They had a chance once, but lacked either the sense or the courage (perhaps both) to avail themselves of it As men and nations make their beds, so they must be content to lie on them"

At some of the great reform demonstrations in England the American flag was borne in the procession Since the late Fenian agitation in Ireland has shown itself upon the surface by seditious acts, the famous song of "John Brown" has become popular among those who entertain Fenian sympathies In these two little facts there is a world of significance and we may add the soul of every true man the wide world over is stirred at the utterance of the noble truth which lies under the closing lines of the simple rhyme which has been the rallying song of an oppressed people

When the law can stop the blades of grass from growing as they grow
And when the leaves in summer their verdure dare not show
Then I will change the color I wear in my corbeen,
But till that day please God I'll stick to wearing of the green

The following significant facts regarding the financial affairs of the Post Office Department have just come to light

Previous to Mr Johnson's defection, the practice in the Department was to refuse all claims of Southern postmasters for stamps sent to Richmond in 1861, in obedience to the orders of the Confederate authorities, which orders were most cheerfully obeyed The Government could not but stultify itself by recognizing this transfer of United States property to the Confederate authorities, and Governor Dennison would never consent to it Mr Randall has, however, inaugurated a more humane and conciliatory policy and has begun to relieve the Southern postmasters from this sort of responsibility The following is one instance

"Dr " S J Wheeler, of Murfreesboro N C , sent to Richmond in 1861 some $455 worth of stamps Some time since he came to Washington, saw Gov Dennison, and tried to have himself relieved from making any returns for these stamps, and was positively refused He made great professions of Unionism, "was always opposed to secession," "thought it was all wrong" "loved the Union most devotedly," "was compelled, on account of the necessities of his family to stay at home and keep guard," etc , etc On the same representations and upon the recommendation of the President, Mr Randall granted his request, he promising to pay the balance soon, which he failed to do

Soon after he left Washington, he turned up at Fortress Monroe, among the distinguished visitors to Mr Davis Here he figured in his true character not as "Dr " but Col Wheeler, late of the Eighth North Carolina Confederate Cavalry editor during the rebellion and at this time of an influential journal, and a person of great local influence He called to pay his respects to Mr Davis as one of his old and valued friends, and obtained a confidential interview with him It is scarcely possible had Mr Randall and Mr Johnson known his true character, that they would have made him a present of $355 in Government money
